

Yoshifumi Miyazaki

Center for Environment, Health and Field Sciences, Chiba University, Japan

[ymiyazaki@faculty.chiba-u.jp](mailto:y Miyazaki@faculty.chiba-u.jp)

EDUCATION

- 1977 Graduated from the Tokyo University of Agriculture and Technology
- 1979 Graduated from the Masters' Courses (Department of Environmental Conservation),
Tokyo University of Agriculture and Technology
- 1985 Doctor of Medicine from the Tokyo Medical and Dental University

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY - ACADEMIC

- 1979 Assistant Professor, School of Medicine, Tokyo Medical and Dental University
- 1988 Researcher, Forestry and Forest Products Research Institute (FFPRI)
- 1992- 2001 Head of Research, FFPRI
- 2001- 2007 Head of the Team for Physiological Activity, FFPRI
- 2007- 2018 Professor, Center for Environment, Health and Field Sciences, Chiba University
- 2009- 2018 Vice President, Center for Environment, Health and Field Sciences, Chiba University
- 2019- Researcher, Grand Fellow, Chiba University
- 2022- Emeritus Professor, Chiba University

AWARDS

- 2000 Minister of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries (MAFF) Award,
“Study of Enhancement Effects on Comfort of Woods and Shinrin-yoku (forest bathing)”
- 2006 Japan Society of Physiological Anthropology Award

PUBLICATIONS

One hundred and sixty-nine academic articles and 21 books (1 authored book published in 18 languages and 19 book chapters) in English. One co-authored book in German. Nine books in Korean and Chinese versions (translation of Japanese authored book). Eighty-six academic articles and 66 books (11 authored books and 55 book chapters) in Japanese.

Full publications list at <http://www.fc.chiba-u.jp/research/naturetherapy/publications-e.html>